

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

The Marie Curie Palliative Care Research Centre (MCPCRC), linked with the Wales Cancer Trials Unit, develops and supports well designed research in palliative care, with the focus on design and conduct of pragmatic studies, which will translate into better patient care. We support the research interests of academics and clinicians locally, and across the UK. Studies may be small or large scale in cancer or any other life limiting disease.

This is how we help:

- Provide advice on how to develop a research idea;
- Provide expert methodological advice;
- Identify funding routes and assist with applications;
- Direct you to the right options for completing your study;
- Offer a vital trials unit facility to run studies once they are funded.

For free individual advice come along to our next clinic

TIME & PLACE

Clinics are held quarterly. The next clinic will be held at:

MCPCRC, Neuadd Meirionnydd
Heath Park, UHW
On Friday 23rd January 2015

HOW TO BOOK

To book your individual advice session please contact :

Kristen Thomas
Tel: 02920 687175
Email: thomask22@cf.ac.uk

A good idea can become great research with the right help